ABERYSTWYTH UNIVERSITY ENTRANCE SCHOLARSHIPS AND MERIT AWARDS

Country: United Kingdom

Awarding Institution: Aberystwyth University

Value: GBP1200

Closing dates: 15 January

Course levels: Master's Degree, Bachelor's Degree

Fields of study:

Nationalities:

Contact person:

Recruitment and Marketing Office, Student Welcome Centre, Aberystwyth University, Aberystwyth, Ceredigion, SY23 3FB

Tel: 01970 622 065 Fax: 01970 621 554 Email: marketing@aber.ac.uk

Description:

Since our foundation in 1872, the University has received generous donations and bequests which make it possible to financially assist students through the annual award of 40-50 Entrance Scholarships and some 250 Merit Awards.

Do you think the hard work you've put into your studies up to now deserves some recognition? If so, you should look into our Entrance Scholarship and Merit Award competition. Winning a Scholarship at Aberystwyth University gives you the following benefits:

- Up to £1,200 a year for EVERY YEAR of your studies
- The security of an UNCONDITIONAL offer to study with us
- GUARANTEED accommodation in a University residence for the duration of your course

Students who do not receive a Scholarship, but whose performance in these examinations is deserving of recognition, are offered Merit Awards which comprise: £1,000, payable in your first year of study, together with an Unconditional offer.

How do I apply?

- The Entrance Scholarship and Merit Award competition requires you to sit two exams in two different subjects.
- The exams take place in February of every year, and can either be taken at Aberystwyth, or at your school or college.
- Applicants wishing to sit the examinations outside of the UK should complete the relevant application form and submit before 15th January.

Eligible students will receive an Entry Bursary of 1500 per year. Those who perform to a high standard will also receive an Achievement Award of 1000 per year. Those whose performance is judged to be excellent will receive an additional Excellence Scholarship of 500 per year. These awards are cumulative, so the best students will receive a total of 3000 per year to offset their tuition fees. The Bursary and Achievement Award will be automatically retained for each year of study, provided the student proceeds normally to the next level. To retain the Excellence Scholarship, students must achieve an average mark of at least 70% at the end of each year. Awards will be made automatically to all eligible students admitted to the Birmingham Law School provided that they are privately funded, categorized as overseas for fees purposes, and apply to study before 30 June to commence their studies in October.

Dr Hadwen Trust for Humane Research is a registered charity established in 1970 to promote the development of techniques and procedures to replace the use of living animals in biomedical research, testing and teaching. The Trust supports and assists scientists to discover techniques which will replace experiments on living animals and encourages through publicity and education the wider adoption of such techniques. Research which requires or involves the use of living animals in any way, even though the ultimate aim may be to replace their use, will not be supported. The Trust will not fund the purchase or maintenance of animals for any reason. Applications should be made by the head of the department or other tenured senior colleague who would take responsibility for directing the research, and should be actively engaged in carrying it through. New applications are usually invited in October, although research proposals may be considered at other times.

Eligible students will receive an Entry Bursary of 1500 per year. Those performing to a high standard will also receive an Achievement Award of 1000 per year. Those whose performance is judged to be excellent will also receive an Excellence Scholarship of 500 per year. A wide range of international qualifications will be considered - please contact the admissions tutor to find out the criteria that would apply in each case. Awards will be automatically retained for each year of study, provided the student proceeds normally to the next level. Students who fail on academic grounds to proceed to the next level of study will forfeit both these awards. To retain the Excellence Scholarship, students must achieve an average mark of at least 70% at the end of each year. Awards will be made automatically to all eligible students who apply by the end of September to commence their studies in the October of their year of entry.

The Foulkes Foundation Fellowships were introduced in 1975. Their purpose is to promote medical research by providing financial support for science graduates who need a medical degree before they can undertake medical research, and similarly for medical graduates who need a science degree. The Trustees will be particularly interested in receiving applications from candidates who are likely to make use of recent developments in molecular biology, biological sciences and biotechnology in the programme of medical research they hope to pursue. The Fellowships which do not cover fees are awarded for up to three years and are tenable in the United Kingdom only. The size of the Fellowship depends on the circumstances of the applicant, but the scale for the basic science research councils' studentship is used as a guideline. FURS is concerned to promote urban and regional research and within this broad field it is particularly keen to encourage an understanding of the interconnection between social, economic and political processes and of the broader causes and effects of these processes. This means for example that research which examines policies critically and focuses on their unintended as well as intended consequences is more likely to be supported than research on managerially defined questions. Conversely research which takes a 'technical' approach to urban and regional questions and does not place them within wider contexts of understanding is unlikely to be given priority. Application form: www.iser.essex.ac.uk/furs/funding/studentships/docs/applic.doc Applications must be received by 31 January each year.

Funding for research is usually provided by an external funding body: research councils (EPSRC, BBSRC, NERC), charities, the EU or industrial companies. Fully funded PhD studentships will be listed on the website, as will those which will be entered into a competition for funding. Funding normally covers not only the research costs (for chemicals, equipment etc.) but also student tuition fees as well as a maintenance grant for living expenses. Eligibility for the funding depends upon the particular circumstances of the student; some grants may be limited to EU residents or even just UK nationals, depending upon the funding body.

The University offers organ scholarships at St Mary Redcliffe Church, Bristol Cathedral and St Pauls Church, Clifton. There are also choral scholarships available at St Mary Redcliffe Church and Bristol Cathedral. These are open to all full-time students, whether or not they are studying for a Music degree. Alumni Foundation Music Bursaries are available to non-Music Department musicians to help with the cost of instrumental or singing lessons. One of the criteria for being awarded a bursary is contribution to University music-making so they can only be held from the second year onwards. Selection is made initially on the basis of application forms and those shortlisted will then audition for the bursaries.

The Arts Centre provides subsidized Music tuition offered to students selected via open auditions. Those selected receive thirty minutes' tuition per week for twenty weeks. The cost of this would be 250, but via the scheme, students only pay a 50 registration fee. It is expected that students who benefit from the scheme will take an active part in the musical life of the University, by joining groups such as the orchestra, choir or concert band. Because of the high demand for places, we do not cater for beginners.

The trust offers grants from the main fund often up to 1,500 for any one grant to further the main object of the Trust. A grant may be offered, for example, to support the costs involved in a research project or the cost of publication of the results of research. The Trustees are particularly interested in research projects which are backed by a professional ability to raise the standard of knowledge of religious principles and practices, and to interpret their relation to contemporary society. The Trust supports research into the great religions of the world, particularly projects that are comparative. The statement explicitly refers to religious principles, so applications need to have a primarily religious concern rather than a sociological or anthropological one. The Trust does not normally support those studying their own religion. For more information see <http://www.spaldingtrust.org.uk/index.html>

Split-Site doctoral Scholarships support attendance for one year at a UK university, under the joint supervision of a home country and UK supervisor. Applicants should be registered for a doctoral degree at their home university. The final qualification obtained will be from the home university, rather than the UK institution. The twelve months in the United Kingdom can be taken at any stage in the doctoral study (providing this is justified in the study plan), and can be divided into two or more periods. Applications are accepted directly from certain developing country universities and from nominating agencies.

The Student Grant Initiative provides one-off contributions to support students who wish to undertake projects that will either enhance their studies at Edinburgh Napier, or support excellence in sport or the creative arts. The grants are designed to support students financially with projects that they would not otherwise have the opportunity to undertake. Priority is given to students who are undertaking exceptional projects that they have proactively organized, rather than students undertaking core University placements. Applications for awards of up to 1,000 per project are now invited from full-time students in second year or above, or from postgraduate students who have progressed straight from an undergraduate course at Edinburgh Napier. There are two application rounds each year in February and October.
