TESTIMONIALS

▶ ANURADHA JEYARATNAM

Secured a First Class Hons in Business and Management from De Montfort University

"I found it fairly easy to cope with the expectations of my lecturers at DMU simply because from the very first day of A-Levels right through my degree, the lecturers at BAC have always trained us based on the UK's exam standards. I had the best learning experience in both BAC and DMU."

▶ EVON LIM

Secured a First Class Hons in Business with International Management from Northumbria University

"BAC's supportive lecturers and relevant assignments created a foundation for me to study overseas. All the lecturers in BAC are very experienced and helpful, especially Dr Chanthoney who is one of my favourite lecturers."

Pembroke College
International

- BA (Hons) Business Management
(Franchised by University of Wales, Trinity Saint David)

HISTORY

Pembroke College is situated in Wales, one hour from Swansea and an hour and a half from Cardiff. The college delivers higher education courses validated by its partner university, Trinity St David (University of Wales).

Offering degree courses since 1992, the College has entered into a strategic alliance with the University of Wales Trinity Saint David, Swansea Metropolitan University, Coleg Sir Gar and Coleg Ceredigion. The result is a dual sector university based on a dynamic new vision for the delivery of higher education within the region, endorsed by the Welsh Assembly Government.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- The college is housed in a modern campus on a green field site on the edge of the county town of Haverfordwest in a beautiful coastal location close to a national park. It is an area of outstanding natural beauty. Haverfordwest, the county town, is small, friendly and has a low cost of living.
- International students, especially those on a Top-Up programme, find the town calm, relaxing and very helpful for intensive study.
- The Business Management programme has been delivered by the college for 20 years. Key features are small class size (average of 20), experienced and supportive teachers and friendly atmosphere.
- The low cost of course fees (£5500) for 2014 is also attractive for some students. Most students on the programme are from the locality but there are also some from Malaysia and other countries.
- International students are very successful at progressing to UK masters courses or employment in the UK and overseas.

HISTORY

The University of London International Programmes is unique in its global reach with over 54,000 students in more than 180 countries. Over 600 exam centres worldwide and 70-plus institutions formally recognized to offer tuition for our programmes. Since 1858, the University of London International Programmes has enriched the lives of hundreds of thousands of students worldwide. Our flexible and affordable study methods enable students to study wherever they live. Our alumni include Nobel Prize winners, politicians, designers, engineers, poets, teachers, lawyers and leaders of business and industry. Our success is based on the University of London's reputation for high academic standards, built by the outstanding teaching and research of its 18 Colleges. Wherever our students live, they are examined to the same high standard as those studying in London at one of the University's Colleges.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- In a world where degrees and degree providers are proliferating, the University of London LLB offers the security of an internationally recognised 'gold standard' established for over 100 years.
- The University of London was the first university to offer a degree in English law (the LLB), in the 1890s – and that degree was made available to International Programmes students from the start.

INTERESTING FACTS

- Students can gain a University of London LLB degree through the University of London International Programmes, from anywhere in the world.
- The LLB allows students to progress on to the Vocational Stage of legal training as a solicitor or barrister in England and Wales and is also recognised in many other countries as leading to admission to the local legal profession (in full or in part).
- Students receive comprehensive subject guides specially written by experts, as well as access to a wealth of online resources.
- A range of entry points include fast track routes for those who already have an undergraduate degree.
- Graduates have gone on to become distinguished lawyers, solicitors, barristers and judges; and many others have gone on to careers in the commercial and financial professions.

UK TRANSFER DEGREE PROGRAMME

KPT/JPS(KR11587)/03/16

Intakes: January, April, June and September

Introduction:

BAC offers the UK Transfer Degree Programme (Law) where students are given the option to complete a 1+2 (1 year at BAC and 2 years at a partner University) or 2+1 (2 years at BAC and 1 year at a partner University) depending on their preference.

Upon successful completion of the programme, students will be awarded an LLB (Hons) degree from the respective university. BAC's UK Transfer Degree Programme (Law) is fully accredited by the Malaysian Qualifications Agency and the UK Joint Academic Stage Board. Students graduating with a degree from a partner university will therefore be accorded UK Qualifying status, making them eligible for the Bar Professional Training Course. Individuals intending to practice law with this degree can thus embark on either the BPTC in the UK or the Certificate in Legal Practice in Malaysia.

Nottingham Trent University

• LLB (Hons) Nottingham Trent University

HISTORY

The University was formed by the amalgamation of many separate institutions of higher education. It originated from the Nottingham Government School of Design founded in 1843. In 1964, Nottingham Regional College was opened and in 1966, the original Nottingham College of Design was linked with the Regional College. Together they merged and the institution was upgraded to Polytechnic status in 1970 to become 'Trent Polytechnic'.

In 1975, it merged with Nottingham College of Education and in 1988, the official name changed to 'Nottingham Polytechnic'. Under the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 all Polytechnics and some higher education colleges became eligible for full university status; at this point, the institution officially became 'Nottingham Trent University'.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- Nottingham Trent University currently offers over 500 courses, which are run over three campuses and administered by nine academic schools.
- Nottingham Trent University was recently awarded the top 5* rating for the world class quality of its teaching during the annual QS-APPLE international education conference at Taipei Medical University
- The University has invested over £350 million across all three campuses to give students the best possible experience.
- Nottingham Trent University has become one of 11 universities to gain the HR Excellence in Research Award from the European Commission in the recent round of awards announced by Vitae.

INTERESTING FACTS

- Many of the subjects offered at Nottingham Trent have been ranked within the top 10–20 in the UK.
- It is one of the largest universities in the UK with around 28,000 students with a reputation for innovation and delivering the highest standards of legal training and education.
- 96% of their law school graduates are employed or engaged in further study six months after leaving (DLHE Survey Undergraduate results 2012–13).
- The University is one of only nine educational establishments validated by the Bar Standards Board to deliver the Bar Professional Training Course.
- The University was named "the most environmentally friendly university in the country" by The Guardian, and in 2009 it was awarded the title of "the most environmentally friendly university in the UK", by The People & Planet Green League.

University of Hertfordshire

- LLB (Hons) University of Hertfordshire
- LLB (Hons) Government & Politics
- LLB (Hons) Commercial Law

HISTORY

The University of Hertfordshire's history goes back to 1952 when Hatfield Technical College was built by Hertfordshire County Council on ninety acres of land personally donated by Alan S. Butler, Chairman of the de Havilland Aircraft Company, on condition it be used for further educational purposes.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- Now based on the modern de Havilland Campus, supported by a £10m facility in the state-of-the-art Law Court Building, our LLB Programme complements the new 2-year (accelerated) and 4-year part-time LLB programmes.
- Successful completion of our LLB law degree will enable you to apply for the Legal Practice Course or the Bar Professional Training Course.

INTERESTING FACTS

- The University offers one of the most innovative teaching programmes in the country with high levels of contact time during the week between staff and students.
- Each module has a knowledge-based lecture to explain the law, a skills-based lecture to demonstrate application and a focused 2-hour workshop. These workshops offer a chance to test student own understanding and raise any tricky issues in a supportive study environment. Lectures are available online and can be downloaded to allow students to review key issues again at your leisure.
- This programme satisfies the academic stage of legal training and is fully recognised by the Solicitors Regulation Authority and Bar Standards Board.
- The University is genuinely flexible with our law degree and responsive to the demands of students, offering a variety of ways to study.

DIA

DIPLOMA IN INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION

Introduction:

The Diploma in International Arbitration is a unique practitioners' qualification awarded by Brickfields Asia College in collaboration with the Malaysian Institute of Arbitrators (MIArb). It is a fast-track, practical and relevant course that is targeted at practising and aspiring arbitrators. Participants of this course will receive a solid grounding in the basic principles of arbitration, with subsequent emphasis on real-life applications using case studies.

Most of the leading legal firms across the world have now established an Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) division. Law graduates, especially, will have a distinct advantage in securing employment with leading firms if they have the Diploma in Arbitration.

The key advantages of using alternative dispute resolution methods are:

- Details of the dispute may be kept confidential
- The methods involved are more flexible than litigation
- Final resolution can be more flexible and tailored to suit the specific case, rather than being limited to narrow application of the law
- Faster resolution of the dispute
- The parties are more likely to accept the solution as they keep control over the dispute themselves
- The relationship between the parties is maintained, as there is no outright winner or loser
- Less expensive than litigation

BAC offers a unique opportunity for LLB, CLP and ICSA students to augment their qualifications by pursuing the Diploma in International Arbitration concurrently with their respective courses. Upon completion of this Diploma, students will immediately receive an 'Affiliate' status of membership with MIArb provided they have at least a Bachelors' degree.
